ARE ALL EYES

DEFECTIVE?

Certain it is that many people experience no trouble with their eyes. Naturally a very large proportion of those who consult opticians or oculists have defective eyes, because the trouble they have leads them to the consultation.

There have been quite a number of people in to see me of late who have nothing at all the matter with their eyes.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of your eyes it will afford you a great deal of satisfaction to know positively. I shall be glad to tell you.

THE CITY HALL MATTER

Mr. Hendrix's Plan—A Suggestion as to a Library Also.

In response to a request by the Telegram for an expression of opinion about the city hall and market house question, Mr. J. M. Hendrix submits the following:

The location and erection of our city hall and market house is a very important question, and one that every permanent citizen of Greensboro should be deeply interested in. I know the matter is in the hands of wise and competent men (I refer to the board of aldermen), still I have good reason for believing that they would be glad to have an expression of opinion from the people. I wish in this way to be allowed to express my views in regard to the matter, as I see it for the best and most lasting interest to city and surrounding country generally.

I will say in the beginning that I am opposed to the combination of city hall and market house as has been suggested. I have many good reasons for the above but do not deem it necessary to mention them now, but will say that I think it will be impossible to make the city hall attractive if attached to the market house. My plan is as follows:

Let the board of aldermen build on the jail lot which they have already bought, the city hall and nothing else, to the south of the center of the lot, and the remainder of the ground with grass seed and let the beautiful green lawn add to the beauty of a $25,000 city hall using the remainder of the appropriation to enlarge present market house. Donate the ground floor for the use of a public library to be furnished and stocked with books by the public spirited citizens of Greensboro, managed by a board of directors, each giving say two dollars ($2.00) for annual privilege of carrying out books, or just enough to pay the expenses of a librarian. Let the use of the books be free to those who do not feel able to pay anything, but will go to the rooms and read. Use the second and third floor for auditorium, and offices to rent.

The above plan carried out, I feel that it would add a great deal of respectability to our city, and we would have something which we could refer to with a great deal of pride. I also believe this would stimulate the sale of bonds.

This I humbly submit to the thinking people for criticism and consideration.

J. M. Hendrix.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Rampant in the South African Republic.

FIFTEEN SOLDIERS KILLED

By Blowing Up a Train—Two Other Trains Collide, Killing Nine. The War Is On.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM
Cape Town, Oct. 13—A British armored train from Mafeking was blown up and destroyed by the Boers near Vryburg last night. The loss of life is not known, but it is feared to be heavy as the train had aboard a lot of refugees fleeing from the Transvaal to Cape Colony. The passengers numbered two hundred, including women and children, besides the armed guard. The news of the outrage has aroused the population here to a pitch of frenzy.

THE NEWS CONFIRMED.
London, Oct. 13—The foreign office confirmed the report of the blowing up of the armored train near Vryburg. The number killed and wounded is not stated. Excitement and indignation are intense. A great clamor for vengeance is being made.

FIFTEEN SOLDIERS KILLED.
Cape Town, Oct. 13—A dispatch received here states that fifteen soldiers were killed by the destruction of the armored train near Vryburg. No mention is made of the loss of life among the passengers. The Boers control the Cape government railroad and Mafeking is isolated. The Orange Free State forces are reported moving on Mad River where they will probably blow up the railroad bridge.

THE LONDON CABINET MEETS.
London, Oct. 13—The cabinet met. There is no crowd, as they have only military details to decide. There is great tension in regard to the rate of the refugees of the Vryburg train.

SHELLED THE WRECKAGE.
Cape Town, Oct. 13—The Boers shelled the wreckage of the train after it was derailed. Apart from the destruction of the train, the most noticeable change today is the presence of the Boers at Mafeking, forty miles south of Mafeking, seeming to indicate their endeavor to get Col. Boden Powell between two fires. The gravity of the Boer advance, when realized, will thereby cut the railway telegraph communication to the north.

REFUGEE TRAIN NOT BLOWN UP.
Cape Town, Oct. 13—It is stated that the armored train was acting as pilot for refugee train when it was blown up. Fifteen soldiers were killed.

A dispatch to the Cape Times states that young Neethling, who pluckily rode into the Boer camp to arrange for the safety of the women and children, was detained as prisoner. The Boers of the Free State have seized Alberton.

NINE KILLED IN A COLLISION.
Cape Town, Oct. 13—Two other trains, crowded with refugees en route to this city, collided today at Victoria, west of Cape Colony. Nine passengers were killed and many injured.

TEN THOUSAND KAFFIRS
Lorenzo, Oct. 12—Ten thousand Kaffirs have been brought here. They are now encamped six miles outside of town. Steamers are being chartered to take them to the Limpopo district.

AMERICAN CONSUL HAS A JOB
Washington, October 12—The state department was today notified of the withdrawal of Conyngham Greer, the British diplomatic agent of the South African Republic, and the existence of a state of war. The American consul at Pretoria, Mr. McCune, was instructed to undertake the care of British interests in the Transvaal.

STEVEN'S PROCLAMATION
Bloemfontein, Oct. 13—The proclamation of President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, declares in favor of the most cordial cooperation with the Free State's sister republic which is about to be attacked by an unscrupulous enemy who has long looked for a pretext to annihilate the Afrikaners. The proclamation then sketches historically the wrongs done the Transvaal, saying the solemn obligations of England have not protected the Transvaal against the annexation conspiracy, and that the experience of the past shows that no reliance can be placed upon the solemn promises of Great Britain when the administration which is now at the helm is prepared to treat its treaties under foot.

At West Market
The meeting at West Market is still in progress. Rev. P. J. Carraway preached an earnest sermon last night, making an urgent appeal to mankind to become acquainted with God. A number stood up for prayers and several Christian people asked prayers for others.

Pastor Rowe announced that the meeting was not ready to close. He expects richer and fuller blessings on the meeting. Preaching tonight at 8 o'clock.

If we can convince you that it is to your interest to trade with us, we do not want you to do so. Fishlake-Katz Co.

Fine fancy groceries at and below cost. All sorts of delicious confectioneries and canned goods. King Bros. at Lindau's old stand.

What Ails the Wind?
By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
New York, Oct. 13—The yacht race is declared off for today.

Everybody knows what also groceries were kept by Lindau. They are now being offered at and below cost by King Bros.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 13

John W. King came up from Greensboro yesterday.

Sheriff Cook, of Guilford county, spent yesterday here.

M. D. Smith was a delegate from Winston here yesterday.

Mr. Hardin, the clever drummer, was in the city this morning.

H. F. Dougan and W. L. Bull, of Louisville were here yesterday.

P. L. Lanar and W. M. Perkins, of Baltimore were "in the push" here yesterday.

High Point furniture will be used in the Long-Neuman sanatorium and hospital at Salisbury.

Miss Narelle Swearingen, a charming young lady of Toxona, Ga., is visiting here, Mrs. Walker.

J. T. Skiles, of Thomasville, passed through last night en route to Philadelphia to take in the exposition.

Mr. Walker, superintendent High Point furniture factory, and wife, left last night to attend the exposition in progress at Philadelphia.

Percy V. Kirkman and Miss Susie Gurley both of this city, will be married in the M. K. Church on Oct. 25th, at half past eight o'clock.

A man by the name of Wright, whose mind is deranged, was at the depot last night. He was from Montgomery county and was in charge of Mr. Laughlin, of Randolph county. Mr. Wright was taken to the state hospital at Morganton. We were told that he had been an inmate of the asylum on several different occasions, but after a stay of a month or so would always get better. His father died a few weeks ago. This is thought to be the cause of his mind becoming so badly impaired at this time.

Some time ago D. O. Cecil sold to Mr. Teague, brother of a city, a horse for fifty dollars. While after the deal was made Mr. Teague became dissatisfied with his horse. He claimed that the horse was lame, wasn't in condition to work and that Mr. Cecil sold it to him under false pretenses; that he guaranteed the horse to be all right. Mr. Cecil denied the charge. So Mr. Teague had papers served on Mr. Cecil and the trial took place last night in the mayor's office before Justices of the Peace W. B. Steele and J. M. Sechrist. Lawyers Ragan and H. Deacon represented the plaintiff. The defendant plead his own case. The trial commenced at seven and lasted until ten forty-five. A good many witnesses were put on the stand. The evidence from beginning to end was quite amusing, and at times evoked hearty laughter. The court announced that the state failed to make any case.

Beats the Wires.
Just before leaving Chapl. Hill yesterday Prof. Wright, of Oak Ridge, sent a telegram to Clegg's Hotel here to prepare supper for sixteen. That was about four o'clock. The train from Raleigh came in late, about seven o'clock, and the message had not arrived. I came while the boys were eating supper.

That is a case where the Southern Railway train beats the Western Union telegraph wires and the train was behind time at that.

More Stealing.
Greensboro seems to be infested by a regular den of thieves. In broad open day time the residence of Mr. W. D. McAdoo, was robbed yesterday and $21 in money stolen. Mrs. McAdoo had the money in her room, concealed under the pillows on her bed. Two or three colored boys were working about the place, and it is quite probable that one of them got the money.

Do you, or don't you. If you are a lady who likes tan shoes you can get a pair worth $2.25 or $2.00 for $1.45, or a pair worth $1.50 or $1.25 for 95 cents at Thacker & Brockmann's. They have a short lot to sell at these prices.

The Minstrels Tonight.
The street parade of the Great Southern Minstrels today was the best ever seen here. All in lack of being equal to the best circus in appearance was the elephant and the monkey.

Performance at the Academy tonight. The press notices of this minstrel from Raleigh and other towns where they have been are unanimous in proclaiming it the best show on the road.

DEWEY'S SOUTHERN TRIP

Likely to be More Extended than at First Contemplated.

WILL VISIT ATLANTA NOV. 1.

Towns Along the Line Preparing to Give the Admiral an Ovation. Details of the Trip.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 13—The southern trip of Admiral George Dewey is likely to be more extended than at first it was contemplated. The Atlanta people having prevailed upon him to visit their city, there is much demand for him to come to other cities in the southland. Among the towns which are already asking the admiral's presence for a day or two, while enroute to the city of Atlanta, are a number of Virginia and North Carolina cities, Charleston, S. C., and other towns. There is also some talk that the admiral may be asked to extend his trip as far as Jacksonville, in which event it is not improbable that he might be induced to stop at Savannah, Birmingham and other large cities in Georgia and Alabama. It is thought to be certain that the admiral will stop over at Charleston, if only for a few hours, as the invitations being extended to him to do so come from strong sources. The people of the south are very anxious to be given an opportunity to greet the admiral, and will doubtless take occasion to assure him of their appreciation, in conjunction with the rest of the country, for the services he performed at Manila. Many of the smaller towns along the line between Washington and Atlanta are already said to be preparing to extend an ovation to the admiral as he passes through.

A gentleman from Charleston, S. C., who was in Washington Thursday stated that the people of Charleston are hopeful that Dewey will visit their city, and if so that he will be assured of as warm a reception as in any other city in the United States which he may visit.

As announced the other day, it is contemplated that the visit of Dewey to Atlanta will be about November 1. The details of the trip have not been arranged, and will not be until his return to Washington from Vermont.

Lieutenant Love, of the 21st regiment, United States Infantry, who was seriously wounded while leading his company on a charge against the enemy, arrived at San Francisco Monday last, and it is said that he will be at his home in Alexandria, Virginia, on Saturday. Lieutenant Love has been twice awarded for gallantry in the Philippine war and his homecoming is a very interesting event. While away from his little daughter, whom he has never seen, was born. The family and friends of the lieutenant will give him a cordial reception upon his arrival.

Minister Strauss has written the department of state from Constantinople in regard to the unfortunate condition of the immigrant Jews, many of whom appear to be starving. He encloses a letter from Consul Jernin, of Jerusalem, which reads in part:

"The Turkish regulation requiring Jews arriving at Yafa to leave the country again in thirty or ninety days if they come as visitors, has, I understand been agreed to by our government. There is no provision, so far as I have been informed, as to how these people are to be made to return. As the Turks do not accept the world of immigrants on landing, a system of money pledges has been resorted to. It is a money guarantee that the parties will carry out the requirement of the Turkish government. Unless they pay the guarantee, the immigrants have great trouble in landing. In many cases, the consul is appealed to, and rather than have them starve, or sent back to the steamer, which would probably not receive them again, he gives his word as security that they will leave the country at the expiration of the times specified. Respectable American Jews, coming here as bona fide travelers, encounter no more trouble than Christian travelers. It is the immigrant class who are suspected as likely to swell the ranks of the colonists."

Captain J. Edward O'Brien, president of the National Pilot Association, who visited New York to attend the Dewey reception and the yacht races, caught a severe cold the night of the Dewey illumination. He arrived in Washington Tuesday night, and left for his home in Pensacola, Fla., Wednesday morning. On account of his illness he had to forego the pleasure of the yacht races and return home. It is said that Captain O'Brien is convinced that the Shamrock will capture the cup and carry it to England.

A gentleman from North Carolina, a democrat, who is in the city, says that there is not the slightest doubt but the constitutional amendment, limiting negro suffrage, will be adopted by the people of the state.

A large number of people went down to Alexandria Thursday to witness the Sesqui-Centennial celebration, and all enjoyed themselves very much. A number of distinguished Virginians passed through the city enroute to attend the celebration.

The comptroller of the currency has approved the Commercial National Bank, of Chicago, Ill., as reserve agents for the National Bank of Virginia, of Richmond.

RACE QUESTION DISCUSSED.

Speeches to the Delegates to the Southern Industrial Convention.

Huntsville, Ala., Oct. 12—The two foremost negroes of the country and a representative white man of the south talked plainly and fearlessly on the race problem today, to the delegates attending the Southern Industrial Convention.

Anticipating the discussion of the subject, the Huntsville opera house was crowded when the morning session began by delegates, their friends and representative citizens from the northern part of the state. The cause of the negro was upheld, but on different lines, by Prof. Booker T. Washington, president of the Tuskegee Normal School, and Wm. H. Council, principal of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, at Normal, Ala. The views of these two men are well known.

Prof. Washington believes the ignorant negro should not be allowed to vote, but favors the placing of the same restriction upon the illiterate white man. Prof. Council wants the negro eliminated from politics, and his education as an industrial factor. The speeches of these two negroes were remarkable, and met with cheers.

Governor McCorkle was liberally applauded by both whites and blacks. His recommendation that a strict educational qualification be required of all negro voters was received with favor by both whites and negroes. The concordance of views presented by the speakers prevented any controversy and the quick adjournment of the convention at the conclusion of the speeches shut off discussion, if any were intended. The only departure from the subject discussed by Messrs. McCorkle, Washington and Council, was an address on "Agricuture," by Prof. C. W. Dabney, of Knoxville, Tenn., president of the University of Tennessee. As he concluded, Prof. Dabney said: "We hear today that the peaceful farmers of the Transvaal are one of the vanguard of being forced from their domains. Whether are they going? They are hemmed in on all sides by foreign powers. I believe a great crime is about to be perpetrated. But it is the result of the march of progress. It was inevitable. It is the law of nature and the law of nature is the law of God."

The next speech was by Prof. Booker T. Washington, who was given an enthusiastic reception. He was introduced by Prof. Killbrew, of Nashville, acting chairman, in a graceful speech. Gov. McCorkle, of West Virginia, followed Prof. Washington. He was loudly cheered as he arose. Prof. W. H. Council, principal of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Normal, Ala., followed Governor McCorkle. The reception given him was not second to that awarded Prof. Washington and Governor McCorkle.

FALLING OF STARS.
Will Take Place in November Says Prof. Lanneau.

Prof. J. F. Lanneau, of the Department of Physics and Appl. Math., of Wake Forest College, writes a citizen of Davidson in answer to an inquiry about the falling of the stars:

"There will be a remarkable shower of stars this year, very much like the ordinary 'shooting stars' we see now and then of an evening quickly snooting across the sky with more or less of a bright trail, and suddenly disappearing. Only, in the shower, there will be many hundreds of them succeeding each other irregularly for four or five hours, and all seeming to come from the same part of the sky, namely from about the constellation of stars, known as 'Leo,' or 'The Lion.'"

"You may see that constellation of stars of an evening now, say at 8 or 9 o'clock, and may know it by its position and shape. You may see it well above the Eastern horizon, its prominent stars being in the shape of an old-fashioned grass blade.

"The shower will occur the night of Monday, November 13th, or rather before daylight next morning. It may begin any time after midnight of Monday the 13th, lasting several hours, perhaps until daybreak. Or it may not occur until Tuesday night, the 14th, after midnight.

"It will be well worth the sitting up two successive nights. It occurs every 33 years. Possibly it may be seen only in Europe, occurring during our day time, as it did in 1866. But keep a look out—it will be worth the trouble."

A SLANDER.

In his Chicago speech Col. J. E. Boyd made the following statement, which is arousing just and sharp criticism. He said: "The Confederate soldier came back from his war with the feelings of a wayward son, to take his place around the Union altar." The Richmond Times brands it as a libel on the Confederate soldier, and says:

After the fight was over the opportunity was offered him to come back into the Union and be accepted the invitation in good faith. But if the condition had been that he should repent and recant and confess himself to have been a "wayward son," he would have remained outside the Union to his dying day.

While the event of the great civil war is a sad and forever closed incident, this slander of the dearest object left to the heart of the south, the old Confederate soldier, should certainly not be allowed to go unchallenged and unrefuted. The great struggle between the boys of the blue and the gray is but a troubled dream of the dead past and the old veterans are drawn together by the many-stranded bonds of a new and reunited country. On the heads of the old "rebs" who are left behind, but whose ranks are growing more and more shadowy as the days go flitting by, there sit the frosts of three score and ten winters; yet we have yet to hear of one of them who knelt repentant at the shrine of his conquerors, confessing that the sacred cause for which he gave up all and his comrade died, was unjust and unworthy of the bravest, noblest, most sacrificing struggle that any historian has yet recorded. They could die, they did die, but none acknowledged that the heaving turf over thousands of lonely graves covered base traitors who fell in a "wayward" enterprise.

It is very obvious that Col. Boyd has either deliberately or carelessly slandered the living and the dead.

We take the following from Col. Old's Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer:

The Southern Sanitarium, edited by Dr. L. A. Seruggs, of Raleigh, has this to say of the negro: "This poor and unfortunate fellow seems to be a wanderer and a stranger in a weary land, for he has been discussed more times than can be numbered. Today the civilized world has its eyes upon him. He is very much to be compared with the children of Israel in their journey through the wilderness. He will bring him out if he will only put himself in the line of his providence, for he is a just judge who will not be partial. He will note his faults as well as his merits. To speak of the black man in North Carolina, we would suggest that his prospective future is bright—however, that it is in his own hands largely. He needs to think more and labor more, and save more and toil less. Let him resolve to do right for the sake of being right. He cannot afford to do wrong or be wrong because, as he says, some other man is doing wrong. This will not mitigate his punishment for wrong doing. Let him observe the golden rule. Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." Matt. 7:12. He needs to care less for politics and follow less some of his present political leaders and turn his care to his home, his race, his church and not least, his God. The white man of the south, and of this state, who knows him best, is his best friend. Let negroes believe this, notwithstanding recent local race troubles in the state—Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee have also had their little petty race troubles. Let the negro in North Carolina do the best thing by being patient, prayerful, industrious, wise and prudent and he shall do well and prosper right here in North Carolina. The south is his home and here he will ever be found in great numbers. Let him make his neighbor his friend by recognizing his interests and the white man's interest as mutual. Let him "live and board at the same place" in his own well kept home.

It is stated that in some sections of the Transvaal war affairs will be conducted under great difficulties, owing to a scarcity of water. This should prove a fortunate circumstance for the Boers, as we are sure they would encounter no difficulty in persuading big forces of Kentuckians to come to the South African Republic—those tall, raw-boned riflemen who don't fall till they see the eye-white.

It's fully as hard to get up a breeze at Sandy Hook as in Luzon.

Notwithstanding the abolition of the censorship in Manila by official decree, the army correspondents are by no means permitted to send what they write from the seat of war. In place of the fatal blue pencil an order has been issued which prescribes in general what may and what may not be telegraphed to the United States, and a correspondent who should disobey this order would be liable to deportation. The correspondents have complained that they were not permitted to make any reports concerning the condition of the army, the care and discipline of the troops and like matters. All this will still be prohibited by the order on the ground that it is calculated to give information to the enemy.

Brigadier General Funston and his gallant regiment, the Twentieth Kansas, has reached San Francisco on their way home. The news of their safe arrival on American shores is received with unalloyed pleasure by the people, and with unbounded joy by Kansas. General Funston and his men have performed their duty in the Philippines with the valor becoming true Americans, and are deserving of none of the just censure which has been applied to soldiers of the stripe of Private Ols.

The last of the recruiting of the Philippine forces has been completed with the exception of 600 negroes who are wanted for the Forty-ninth, which is dispatched from Washington says will be secured within the next forty-eight hours. Soon the great American army in the Philippines will be prepared to march up the hill and down again.

A formal declaration of war has been made by the Boer congress. A crisis is expected soon. We would suggest that the most formidable manner in which Kruger may defeat the Red Coats is to load his cannon with "ultimatums."

If the correspondents at the new field of war are to fire such names and adjectives at us as Burgerwacht, vanderlandslede, vreedmeling, trekken, staatkund, etc., we feel sorry for the telegraph editor.

One of the vessels began to rock, to reel and drift. "A breeze, a breeze!" shouted a racing enthusiast. But his hopes were doomed to disappointment. It was only a Shamrock.

The list of "South African terms," which many of the papers are printing, are hard. At least John Bull thinks so.

WHO DYNAMITED FRANCIS?

The State of Texas Willing to Pay for the Information.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 11—Governor Sayre today offered a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of each of the parties implicated in dynamiting the residence of Albert Francis near Jacksonville on the night of September 26. Francis and wife, colored people, were asleep when the charge of dynamite was exploded. The house was destroyed and the couple blown a distance of a hundred feet. They were seriously injured.

Numberous suits have been filed by Attorney General Smith against stockmen to recover back rentals on state lands unlawfully occupied. Catlemen of West Texas are flocking here to settle with the state out of court.

No Cure—No Pay.
That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

At Hickman, Ky., Fred Hopen, in a dispute, shot T. L. Eversole, his partner, and then committed suicide by drowning.

President King, Farmers' Bank, Brooklyn, Mich., has used DeWitt's Little Early Risers in his family for years. Says they are the best. These famous little pills cure constipation, biliousness and all liver and bowel troubles. Howard Gardner.

Nell—Miss Passe should be ashamed of herself, the way she encourages lying. Belle—How so? Nell—Why, she asks all the men to guess how old she is, and they are too polite to tell the truth.

Joseph Stockford, Hodgdon, Me., healed a sore running for seventeen years and cured his piles of long standing by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Trial bottle free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

Beats The Klondike.
Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered with colds, and was accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Trial bottle free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

It's fully as hard to get up a breeze at Sandy Hook as in Luzon.

England's Foes.
Friends, let us fear no foe, soever strong, our cause is righteous, our civil soul,
No danger save dishonor, and no Shoa save the dark shame under a sea of wrong.

Let all the enemies of England throng Against her if her own true heart be whole, Though all their envious thunders round her roll, Unconquerably shall ring her battle-song.

O, dread not these but rather those dim powers, Truth, mercy, justice, honor, freedom, good, Whose slow sad anger now o'er England lowers, As late o'er France, lest sin's vicissitude, Moving through fraud to war's fraternal feud, Draw down on her the vengeance that devours.

—James Douglas, in London Leader.

Turpin line Brings 50 Cents a Gallon.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 11—For the first time in more than ten years spirits of turpentine was quoted at 50 cents a gallon on the floor of the board of trade this morning. The increases did not cause any flurry. The price reached today is the highest attained in a little more than ten years.

When the high price was reached before it was later in the season. In March, 1889, the price was run up to 51 cents where it stayed for a day or so. The naval stores people do not expect any decrease for a long time. More than half the present crop is in port. The season began in April, and half of the crop was sold by August. The highest prices of the season are usually recorded in January and February and it is being freely predicted that the top limit has not yet been reached. The receipts are light and the evidences are that the crop will be short.

It is the business policy of the Provident Savings to give the assured their insurance at the lowest possible cost to them, instead of building up a monumental surplus, in which they do not participate, but for the possible benefit of those who never contribute to it.—The Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21st, 1899.

The Reason.

"Because of one small, low-laid head, all crowned With golden hair, Forevermore all fair young brows to me

A halo wear; I kiss them reverently, Alas I know The pain I bear.

"Because of dear but close-shut holy eyes Of heaven's own blue, All little eyes do fill my own with tears—

Whate'er their hue; And motherly I gaze their innocent Clear depths into.

"Because of little pallid lips which once My name did call, No childish voice in vain appeal upon My ear doth fall; I count it all my joy their joys to share, And sorrows small.

"Because of little dimpled hands Which folded lie, All little hands henceforth to me do have

A pleading cry; I clasp them as they were small wandering birds Lured home to fly.

"Because of little death cold feet, for earth's Rough roads unmet, I'd journey leagues to save from sin or harm

Such little feet, And count the lowliest service done for them So sacred—sweet."

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Packler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saves thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. Howard Gardner.

All Massachusetts is going through Dewey's flagship Olympia, at Boston.

Eat plenty. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. It cures all forms of dyspepsia and stomach troubles. E. K. Gamble, Vernon, Tex., says: "It relieved me from the start and cured me. It is now my everlasting friend." Howard Gardner.

REV. S. A. DONAHUE
Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahue, pastor M. E. Church, South, Point Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold, which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

The board of aldermen will meet tonight in regular session. The members are requested to be on hand promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The attention of those who will have Saturday shopping in the grocery line for a Sunday dinner, is directed to the new ad today of Smith & Murchison.

Hudson makes his usual Friday announcement of an elaborate display of good things for Saturday's trade. See his ad in upper left hand corner of this page.

Capt. B. J. Fisher is detained in Washington on account of the illness of Mrs. Fisher, and he will probably not reach Greensboro before Monday next.

Frank Smith, son of Mr. I. N. Smith, had his collar bone broken in a game of football at the Asheboro street school yard today. He was attended by a physician and is getting along all right. He is about fourteen years old.

The Oak Ridge Institute football team returned last night from Chapel Hill, where, as announced by special in this paper yesterday, they were defeated by the University, the score being 10 to 0. The O. R. I. team put up a good game but the superior weight and training of the University boys was too much for them.

A carpenter named Teachey, who was at work on some trestle work out at the Iron furnace, fell a distance of nineteen feet yesterday afternoon. Luckily he caught on his feet and was not seriously injured. Dr. Battle, who attended him, thinks some of the ligaments in one foot are torn, but that he will be all right in a short time.

GREENSBORO COMPANIES

Have Won Every Time—Have Adhered to First Policy.

The Southeastern Tariff Association, which has been in session in Washington for two days, completed its work yesterday and adjourned. An Associated Press report says:

"The most important action at the meeting was in regard to the 15 per cent. commission matter and in relation to going into agencies with certain companies in North Carolina, which, it is claimed, give rebates to the assured."

"Concerning the North Carolina controversy the association abrogated the rule which prevents companies represented in the organization from going into the same agencies anywhere with the Southern Stock Mutual and the Goldboro Mutual Insurance Company of that State. These were the companies which, it was represented, gave some rebates to the assured and considerable discussion resulted before the question was disposed of. The action was unanimous."

By this it will be seen that the fight made on the Southern Stock Mutual and the Underwriters, of this city, by the Southeastern Tariff Association, has been unsuccessful. These companies have not deviated one iota from the policies first outlined and by which they have built a large and successful business. The home offices of these companies are in this city, and we are glad at all times of their success.

Mt. Pisgah Meeting.

Rev. J. B. Taber, the pastor, is conducting a successful revival at Mt. Pisgah church, about five miles from town. The services are largely attended and up to this time there have been eleven conversions.

Quarterly conference will be held there on tomorrow and Sunday by Rev. Dr. Wood, presiding elder.

How About It, Bob?

The Winston Horse Show and fair people have issued a pamphlet advertising the event, and advertising the twin cities in a general way. In one place something is said about the "mortality" of the towns being lower than any other place. This writer, being a former resident of Winston, doesn't like to see that, and in our frenzy we ask Bob Carmichael to look the matter up and see if it should not read "mortality."

Notes of The Prowler

"I saw a fellow last night," said the Prowler this morning, "who had just returned from Siler City, and he said that Lawyer Gilbert was the proud possessor of a kissing bug. What in thunder he wants with it is more than I can see, unless he's become so accustomed to kissing that he has to keep it up all the time. But I never thought a bug would suit his refined and fastidious taste. I thought the kissing bug was intended only for old maids, old bachelors and widowers who didn't have any sweethearts. What's got the matter with Gilbert, anyhow?"

"There's another thing that puzzles me, and that is this: You often see two men, who are both possessed of good, hard, horse sense, who look at the same object, standing side by side, and one of them will swear it's one way and the other one swears it's another way. Ever think of that? It is so in many things.

"For instance, here in Greensboro, many people want the streets graded by cutting down the steep hills, and others want them left just as they are. Some people say that the Maker of the universe knew what he was doing when he made the hills and that man has no business to tear up the beautiful ridges and blast out the rocks. It is claimed that the earth is all right and that its surface should not be changed.

"By this, I take it that the fellows who build railroads are all wrong. They have no business to cut through mountains and hills in order to carry larger loads and get along faster. They ought to go around them or over the top, no matter how long it takes to make the trip. These fellows who advocate good roads are too smart. The old way of climbing steep hills with half a load is good enough and should be kept up, because the hills were made by One who knew what He was about.

"But I differ with those people. The Almighty is good and the earth was made by Him for man's improvement and enjoyment. God left man here to provide his own means of locomotion and determine the rate of speed he should travel, and how big a load he should carry, and whether he should walk, run, ride in a wagon or on the train or in a flying machine."

And the Prowler is led like he knew it all.

It is making large gains over last year, its new business during the past three months being over one hundred per cent. In excess of the same period last year.—Journal of Commerce, New York City, August 21, 1899.

Every Day Grows Bigger

Day by day and week by week Bendheim's business grows. It's the result of honest merchandising. The good women folks have found us out—tried us and found us as good as our word—that not a thing has ever appeared in print over our name nor a value represented that we didn't have. Hippodrome business goes for a while, but, like the circus, it doesn't last long.

Solid growth—big growth—success—all depend upon telling the truth and fair and square dealing.

We are very busy now, but hardly the wonder, when we are giving the best of seasonable goods at such low prices. Take for instance
